A public sector strike in 2005, marked by major street demonstrations, expanded into a campaign for political reform.

The street newspaper that had monitored some of the civil rights abuses in the city went out of business in 2003.

High level expression may also be achieved using inducible promoters such as the metallothionine II A promoter, heat shock promoters, etc.

There’s been a huge expansion of the periphery around Addis Abeba.